May 18, 1945

Mr. E. C. Daggett,
1309 NE 21st Avenue
Portland, Oregon.

Dear Mr. Daggett:-

I am here visiting the University of Southern California but I want to take this the first opportunity to extend to you my sincere sympathy in the death of your dear son, Lieut. Elson Cameron Daggett, Jr. Since I was President of the State College until a few months ago I knew Cam rather well and his death is a personal loss to me. He was a fine young fellow, a good college citizen, and a man of superior ability and promise.

It is sad enough for an elderly person to be called away but it is tragic to have a young man of character and promise to be lost to society.

According to the issue of the Spokane "Chronicle" May 12, 1945 Cam was killed at Okinawa on April 8, 1945. If you have any details concerning his death please send them to Registrar Frank T. Barnard, who will have printed at the close of this terrible conflict a brochure telling of the W.S.C. men who have made the supreme sacrifice.

In your grief you must be very proud of what Cam did for his country. I am glad you knew your son.

Sincerely,

President Emeritus State College of Washington
